From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Oct. 9.

Vienna, September 26.

MR. Stepney, Envoy of England, who 'twas thought would have gone from hence with the King of Spain, will continue to reside at this Court. Count Wratislau will set out tomorrow or next day to return to England in his former Quality of Imperial Envoy, but 'tis said he will shortly be reliev'd by Count Gallas. 'Tis reported that the Count de Lamberg will shortly return from Rome, seeing all Endeavours to engage the Pope to espouse the Emperor's Interest are unavailable. A Paper has been publish'd here, in which his Holinesses Partiality for the Crowns of France and Spain is endeavour'd to be made out. The Pope's Nuncio keeps quiet in his own House, having had no Interview with any of the Emperor's Ministers since he was forbidden the Court. By an Express from the Secretary of the Imperial Embassy at the Porte, we have receiv'd a Confirmation of the late Revolution in the Ottoman Court; with this addition, that on the Arrival of the Mutinous Soldiers at Adrianople the new Sultan promis'd every Janisary 25 Rixdollars, to keep them from Plundering; that the Mufti Serulach offer'd to contribute 2000 Purses (that is, a Million of Rixdollars) towards the Sum requisite for making good that Promise, but that would not save him, for he and his eldest Son were beheaded in the Marketplace (a Fate no Mufti ever underwent publickly before) after which their Bodies were dragg'd naked through the Streets and thrown into the River Tunscha. The said Imperial Secretary had had several Audiences of the new Ministers, and had full Assurance given him that the Porte will strictly observe the Treaty concluded at Carlowitz with the Emperor. Count Forgats having drawn together 1000 Men and joyn'd the Regiment of Dragoons of Schlick, has defeated a Detachment of the Rebels; but this does not hinder their ranging about the Country far and wide, and increasing in Number. A great many Vessels are taken up here, to carry the Regiment of Hanover and another down the Danube to Hungary. They write from Croatia that 4000 Men are marching against the Rebels; and that Collonel Kyba is drawing Forces together to act against them. The Rebels possess'd themselves of Zolnok on the 11th of this Month; so that now the Country is expos'd to their Incursions quite up to Pest.

From the Harlem Courant, dated October 9.

Frankfort, October 2. The Army commanded by Count Stirum continues near Nordlingen, and is reinforc'd by the Franconian Troops led by General Auffas from Rothemberg: He has likewise receiv'd some Artillery. The Troops of the Circle of Westphalia, will, 'tis said, march to joyn the Prince of Baden, on Intelligence that the Marshal de Tallard intends to endeavour to lead a Succour of 8 or 10000 Men to the Marshal de Villars: At the same time we are inform'd the French Army is marching towards Haguenau; and our Troops at Lauterburg and Croonweyssenburg on the Approach of the Enemy are retir'd towards Landau. Just now comes Advice, that the French Army has pass'd the Rhine at Kehl, whence we make account that the Enemy have certainly some Design on our Lines and Landau.

Frankfort, October 3. Prince Lewis of Baden continues in his Camp near Ausburg; Parties of his Army make daily Incursions into Bavaria, and raise great Contributions: The Prince has given Order for demolishing Fridberg. General Thungen lies Sick at Fredenthal. On the 30th Ult. the French Army was advanc'd as far as Schiren.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Oct. 9.

Neurenberg, October 2. Monsieur de Blainville, Governour of Ulm, is march'd up the Danube with 4 or 5000 Men and 4 Pieces of Cannon, and has put a Garrison into Munderkingen; from whence he will advance further to fetch off a French Convoy from the Frontiers of Switzerland.

Frankfort, October 4. The Marshal de Tallard is with a Body of Troops near Haguenau, and waits to be joyn'd by 10 Battallions and 16 Squadrons under Monsieur de Varennes from Lotrain, and by another Detachment under Monsieur de Pracontal from the Netherlands. Letters from Ausburg say, that the Elector of Bavaria advanc'd on the 26th of September to Gershoffen, within a League of the Prince of Baden's Troops, and that day at Noon he came up to the River Wertach to take a View of them, intending to attack them, but he found them too advantageously posted.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Oct. 9.

Liege, October 5. The Baron de Trogne went hence yesterday to take Possession of his new Government of Huy, in which 5 Battallions of Foot, 2 Squadrons of Dragoons, and 200 Hussars will be garrison'd. The Hereditary Prince of Hesse Cassel, is encamp'd with 5 or 6000 Men at Verviers, but will march from thence tomorrow towards Stavelo. All the Principal Officers in the Spanish Netherlands, among others the Count d'Autel Governour of the Province of Luxemburg, the Count de Brouay Governour of that of Namur, the Count of Salsasin, the Marquesses of Risbourg and Westerloo, have Orders to repair to Spain, there to receive the Commands of the two Kings; accordingly they are preparing to be gone, tho' much against their Wills.

Leghorne, Sept. 19. The Zealand Caper call'd the Flying Fame, has brought in hither a Pink of Algiers having 54 Men on board among them 6 Jews; he took and ransom'd a French Bark going with Corn to Marseilles; and has brought in likewise the Asia a French Ship laden with Corn, which he took near the Island Elba.

Paris, Sept. 25. The following Order has been publish'd here.

'The King being inform'd, that in Breach of the 'General Prohibition of Commerce, caus'd by the 'War with the Enemies of the State, several Mer'chants and Traders of the Kingdom contrive to 'bring in Merchandises from Foreign Countries 'with which his Majesty is at War, by indirect 'Ways and under divers Pretexts; To which his 'Majesty being minded to put a stop, the Report on

' on that Affair of the Sieur de Chamillart Coun-
' cellor in ordinary of the Council Royal,and Comp-
' troller General of the Finances being heard: The
' King being in Council, has forbidden and prohi-
' bited the bringing into his Kingdom any Merchan-
' diſe of what kind ſoever, of the Growth, Manu' facture or Traffick of the Dutch, the Engliſh, and
' other Forreign Countries with which his Majeſty
' is at War, on Penalty of Confiſcation of the ſaid
' Merchandiſes, Ships, Boats, Waggons and other
' Carriages; and of a Fine of 3000 Livres, and In-
' terdiction of Trade, againſt the Merchants to whom
' the ſaid Merchandiſe ſhall be found to belong. His
' Majeſty commands likewiſe, that the Merchandiſes
' which the Merchants of the Neutral Countries of
' the North may bring to Traffick in his Kingdom,
' ſhall not be brought in but by Sea, and ſhall be
' imported directly from the ſaid Countries in either
' French or Neutral Ships, and not otherwiſe; on
' the like Penalty of Confiſcation of the Goods and
' Carriages, and of 3000 Livres Fine againſt the
' Merchants to whom the Merchandiſes ſhall appear
' to belong. Done in the King's Council of State,
' his Majeſty preſent, held at Verſailles the 28th day
' of Auguſt 1703.
Sign'd, Louis, and lower Phelypeaux.
